Seven Major Bills

Congress' Session

Tax Program and Farm

Legal Problems

Washington, May 19.—(AP)—Congressional majority leaders, out to preserve their clean record of legislative victories this session, concentrated today on hurrying along half a dozen major measures backed by the administration.

They said it might be possible to recess for a month or two during the summer if all pending administration objectives were achieved promptly and if the foreign situation did not require a continuous session.

Congress already has approved the policy of giving Great Britain all aid short of manpower and has appropriated $7,000,000,000 to back the program. It has voted record army and navy appropriations and is well on the way toward topping all previous congressional spending.

Still pending, however, are these major proposals:

1.—To raise approximately $3,500,000,000 in new taxes. This is under consideration by the house ways and means committee.

2.—To grant the Reconstruction Finance Corporation virtually unlimited power to expedite the national defense program. This has been passed by the senate.

3.—To give the Office of Production Management authority to say which defense and British aid orders should be filled first. The bill has passed both chambers and the house is expected to accept the senate version soon.

4.—To permit the government to take over foreign ships lying idle in American waters. Both houses have passed this bill but a joint conference committee must adjust differences between their versions.

Money Bill Not Passed

5.—To extend the president's power to devalue the dollar further and maintain the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund. Neither house nor senate has passed the bill.

6.—To make changes in the selective service act. The army would like to alter the age limit (21 to 36) in order to obtain younger recruits, but opposition has developed in the house military committee.

7.—A record-breaking farm appropriation, now awaiting action by a joint senate-house committee.

President Roosevelt has suggested legislation to permit development of the St. Lawrence seaway, but no such bill has been introduced and because of bi-partisan opposition there has been some talk that none would be offered.

New Bill Drafted
Providing for Tax on Cigaret Sales

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—(AP)—Administration legal experts worked today at the task of drafting a new cigarette tax bill to be introduced in the Illinois legislature as a substitute for the two-cent-a-package measure which Attorney General George F. Barrett found unconstitutional.

Governor Green, stopping here briefly last night on his way from Chicago to inspect Illinois Guardsmen at Tullahoma, Tenn., affixed his signature to a veto message for the defective bill which was passed by the legislature two weeks ago.

The new bill, drafted to meet the legislature along with the veto message, possibly at tonight's session of the house.

To Meet Objections

Barrett's objections to the original tax bill were expected to be made public when the veto message is read to the general assembly. The governor's announcement that the new bill was being drafted to meet Barrett's objections was taken to mean that the attorney general found only technical defects in the measure, rather than any constitutional bar to imposition of a tax on cigarettes.

The tax rate in the new bill was expected to remain the same—a one mill tax per cigarette or two cents on each standard package of 20.

Governor Green signed the veto message in the dining car of the Alton railroad's Abraham Lincoln train last night after aides met the train. He continued on his way to Camp Forrest, Tenn., with a delegation of legislators to inspect the Illinois Guardsmen in federal training.

Security

Tampa, Fla., May 19.—(AP)—A man walked into a Tampa bank and wanted to borrow $100.

"What security?" asked a bank official.

"Cash," the customer replied, counting out $100 in old style large bills.

He explained he wanted to keep the discontinued currency for its antique value, but was momentarily in need of cash. He got the loan.

Cautious Draft Boards Not to Take Artisans

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—(AP)—Local draft boards in Illinois were cautioned today against calling men needed in factory or field or students of promise in professional and technical fields.

Paul G. Armstrong, state director of Selective Service, called attention to the recent announcement by national headquarters of the Selective Service that the Office of Production Management and other national defense agencies reported growing shortages not only of skilled mechanics but also in vital professions.

Selective Service regulations, he said, have the purpose of guiding local boards to three major results:

(1) Prevention of avoidable shortages of necessary workers in defense production.

(2) Protection of the industrial training program by deferment of individuals upon evidence that they are in "training or preparation" for an occupation necessary to maintenance of "national health, safety, or interest."

(3) Anticipation of possible exhaustion of pools of highly skilled workers not now employed in defense activities but probably necessary in the near future for expansion of defense production, when such men "but for a seasonal or temporary interruption would be engaged in such defense activity."

Promising Students

Armstrong also urged deferment of promising students in certain specialized professional and technical fields to permit them to complete their training. He said there were indications of shortages in 17 fields. Eight of them in which a critical situation exists are:

Civil, electrical, chemical, mining, metallurgical and mechanical engineering, chemistry, medicine and dentistry.

The other nine are agricultural and sanitary engineering, pharmacy, physics, biology and bacteriology and the four branches of geology—geophysics, meteorology, hydrology and cartography.

Armstrong, however, stressed the fact that the Selective Service act prohibits any class or group deferment and consideration of each individual case.

Illinois Toll of Violent Deaths
Over Week-End Adds at Least 22

(By The Associated Press)

The Illinois toll of dead from violent causes over the week-end added up to at least 22, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Traffic accidents, as usual, accounted for the greatest number—twelve—in the grisly compilation. Other fatalities resulted from such divergent causes as falls, burns and shootings.

A 24-year-old man, Thomas Kontos, died yesterday shortly after he was struck near the heart by a pitched ball while at bat in a semi-pro baseball game in a Chicago park.

Three-year-old John D'Angelo, Jr., was killed before the horrified gaze of his mother Saturday when the door of a moving automobile against which he had been leaning, flew open, tumbling him out into a Chicago street.

At Bloomingington, authorities investigated the fatal shooting of Dryer Dameron, 19, whose body

Cause of Disaster;
Victims Total 201

Alexandria, Egypt, May 19.—(AP)—The fate of 201 passengers—including 120 Americans—aboard the Egyptian steamer Zamzam, which sank in the South Atlantic while en route from New York to Alexandria, remained unknown today.

Authorities likewise were silent on the cause which sent the 8,299-ton passenger liner to the bottom somewhere between Recife (Pernambuco), Brazil, and Capetown, Union of South Africa.

The Alexandria Navigation Company received a cable from London advising that the Zamzam's Master, Captain William Gray Smith, a veteran of 37 years at sea, was missing but there were no other details.

Coinciding with the company's bare announcement of the sinking, the British Ministry of Information in London said the ship was "presumed lost" in the South Atlantic after leaving Pernambuco on April 9.

The United States Consul General here said the 120 Americans aboard the vessel included Protestant and Catholic missionaries en route to posts in various sections of central Africa, and a group of British-American ambulance drivers and their assistants, en route to service with British and "Free French" forces in Egypt.

Was Marked Plainly

She also was carrying a cargo of fertilizer, trucks, automobiles and machinery of various types and was said to have been marked plainly with the flags of non-belligerent Egypt.

(When the Zamzam arrived in New York last February before her last run back, Captain Smith reported she had made the entire trip blacked out and with radio silent, commenting that although Egypt was not at war she was "considered a non-belligerent ally of Great Britain and we could not take any chances.")

The Zamzam, built in 1909 at Belfast and first christened the Leicestershire, was one of the

Anthracite Mines Reopen Tomorrow

New York, May 19.—(AP)—A short-lived work stoppage in the anthracite coal industry ended today when the United Mine Workers of America (C. I. O.) and Pennsylvania hard coal operators tentatively agreed on a new wage contract granting wage increases to approximately 100,000 hard coal miners.

John L. Lewis, UMWA president, telegraphed local unions throughout the anthracite area to have the men return to their mines tomorrow morning.

The stoppage became effective yesterday morning after having been called last Saturday night when it appeared the union and operators would be unable to reach an agreement.

The tentative agreement provides for a basic wage increase of 7 1/2 per cent on all contract and day rates until October 1 when the increase will be advanced to 10 per cent.

The union had asked for $1-a-day increase over the prevailing basic rate of $4.62 a day and a 20 per cent increase for contract workers.

'Will Find Way' to

Britain Says Hull

Secretary of State on Air
Sunday Night; Wheeler Talks

Washington, May 19.—(AP)—Secretary of State Hull, defining America's position in the world today as one of mortal danger, told the country "We will find a way" to guarantee delivery of adequate supplies to Great Britain.

He repeated his belief that Britain's successful defense was vital to this nation's security and in a radio address last night he put forward the five peace points which the administration feels should guide any post-war settlement.

Hull spoke of no peace now, however.

"First, he emphasized, 'the tide of force must be turned back.'"

In contrast to this attitude, Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) renewed his suggestions that the time was ripe for President Roosevelt to take the initiative for a negotiated peace in Europe's war.

The Montanan, a strong critic of administration foreign policy, saw a "wonderful opportunity" for peace overtures in the fireside chat which Roosevelt has scheduled for May 27.

Thinks Hess No Stooze

"I don't believe that Hess is a stooge of Hitler," Wheeler told reporters. "I think in flying to Scotland he represented a large segment of the German population which is anxious to obtain peace."

"It would seem to me that the President at this time could well afford to seek a peace which would save England, her empire and the British fleet and would stop the slaughter of human beings."

"It is not necessary to have a Hitler-dictated peace or a Churchill-dictated peace. I think we could have a peace that could be written in the interest of the people of Europe as distinguished from the dictators and imperialists of Europe."

Thousands Attend
'I Am an American
Day' Gatherings

(By The Associated Press)

Vast throngs turned rallies into spirited patriotic demonstrations yesterday as the nation held its first "I Am An American Day".

The meetings, intended to arouse in naturalized Americans awareness of what it means to be citizens of this nation, were held throughout the country in response to a presidential proclamation. Movie actor Edward Arnold, president of the I Am An American Foundation, said there were observances in 3,500 cities.

At New York's Central Park rally alone the police estimate of attendance was 675,000 and Chief Inspector Louis F. Costuma said he believed it was the largest crowd which ever attended a patriotic gathering in the United States. At Chicago's Soldier Field the attendance was estimated at 100,000 by Otto K. Jelinek, park police traffic head.

High government officials, by radio or in person at the rallies, called upon naturalized and native Americans alike to make whatever sacrifices necessary to keep democracy strong in this nation.

Appeal to Germans

Secretary Ickes told the roaring New York crowd that "here in America we have something so worth while living for, that it is worth dying for." He also asserted that the United States must give Great Britain "everything needed to beat the life out of our common enemy."

In Washington Vice President Wallace appealed to "our fine German citizens" to "join with our fine citizens from every other land in thanking God for America" and added:

"We like the Germans in America, provided only that they accept the American ideal and do not directly or indirectly give comfort to the Hitler idea of racial superiority, which is so utterly opposed to what America stands for."

William S. Knudsen, director of the Office of Production Management, said at Chicago: "Soon we will have this great industrial machine of ours turning out material in a quantity that will make us able to defend our shores and help others who are in need."

Mother, Children Beaten to Death

Newark, Del., May 19.—(AP)—A mother and her two children were found beaten to death in their farm home five miles south of Newark today and state police said the first floor of the bungalow showed signs of "a terrific struggle."

The body of Mrs. Ethel Webb, 30, lay on the floor of a bedroom. In an adjoining room was the body of six-year-old Clarence. In a crib was Judith, seven months, also dead.

State police said they had established the trio was beaten to death, apparently with an axe. They said they were looking for a suspect.

The Webbs have been living as tenants on a 100-acre tract used for raising poultry. The place is owned by H. S. Palmer, who found the bodies.

Demands Will Be Served on Carriers June 10
Under U. S. Laws

Chicago, May 19.—(AP)—Representatives of the five big railroad operating unions, representing 350,000 workers, announced today they had decided to launch a concerted national campaign for a 30 per cent increase in all basic rates of pay.

Following a conference which began last Friday, they announced they would demand wage increases which would amount to not less than $1.80 a day.

Their demands will be served on the railroads June 10 pursuant to provisions of the National Railway Mediation Board.

Union representatives at the conference were the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Engineers, Locomotive Firemen & Enginemen, and Railroad Trainmen, the Switchmen's union and the Order of Railway Conductors of America.

The statement read:

"General chairmen of the five transportation organizations representing all men employed in engine, train, and yard service on railroads in the United States, have by unanimous vote today decided to launch a national concerted wage movement requesting a 30 per cent increase in all basic rates of pay, with a minimum money increase of $1.80 a day."

"The 30 per cent increase will also apply to all arbitrary and miscellaneous rates, including special allowances and daily and monthly guarantees."

"The railroads will receive a formal notice of these demands, pursuant to provisions of the Railway Labor Act and current agreements, on June 10, 1941."

Claim Increased Productivity

"The wages of railway employees are rapidly dropping below wages paid to men in other industries."

"Soaring prices and the general increased cost of living, including rents and taxes imposed upon employees, are important factors in the situation."

"In four years the productivity of railroad men has increased 43 per cent without any increase in

Forces of Duke of Aosta Caught in British Trap

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The surrender of the Royal Duke of Aosta, Italian Viceroy of Ethiopia, with his beleaguered force in its mountain-top fastness northeast of Addis Ababa comes at an opportune moment for the British in view of the great axis offensive developing in the Near and Middle East.

The capitulation of this contingent of from 35,000 to 38,000 Italian and native troops not only brings the allied clean-up in Ethiopia close to a successful conclusion, but it will release a considerable British force for use elsewhere. Additional soldiers are badly needed by Commander-in-Chief General Wavell to meet the new axis threat.

This easement in the Ethiopian situation may give Wavell the relief necessary for the inauguration of an offensive against the German-Italian expeditionary force which is sparring for an opening to invade Egypt from Libya and reach the Suez canal. Of course, Wavell has a complicated problem on his hands but one would expect him to pursue the strategy of striking at this axis force before the Germans can get set in the Middle East to smash at him from that direction.

If Wavell is unable to make an attack against the Libyan expedition now, he soon will find himself under heavy pressure from a pincers movement, and trying to face both ways at once. As things stand now, the Germans haven't had a chance as yet to get set in Syria and Iraq, though they may be expected to move east in the accumulation of warplanes with which to cooperate with the axis forces in Libya.

There have been indications that General Wavell was preparing for just such an attack against Libya in an effort to duplicate his sensational victory over Italian Marshal Graziani's army. Could he achieve this he obviously would be in a much better position to meet the undoubted danger which is threatening from the east.

Therefore, it wouldn't be surprising to see the British strike at Libya at almost any moment, unless their position is much weaker than has been represented by the high command. This is, of course, the bad time of year for fighting—with the desert blazing under a terrific heat and sand-storms sweeping the wastes, but military operations can be carried out.

The British situation has been rendered more difficult by developments in French-mandated Syria. The government of Syria maintains that it acted under the Nazi-French armistice terms in allowing German warplanes to use its airbases in transit to Iraq to fight the British. Moreover, the action of the British in bombing Syrian airbases resulted today in the issuance of a proclamation by General Dentz, French High Commissioner, calling upon the people to resist the "criminal aggression" of the British.

Thus General Wavell is put in the tight position of seeing the Germans use Syria as a highway to pile up forces to attack him.

35,000 to 38,000
Capitulate: War
News Summary

(By The Associated Press)

Prime Minister Winston Churchill's pledge to tear Italy's African empire "to tatters and shreds" moved nearer fulfillment today as the Duke of Aosta, fascist Viceroy of Ethiopia, surrendered himself and 35,000 to 38,000 troops to the British at Amba Alaji.

British headquarters said that 7,000 Italian soldiers were surrendered today and that the duke, son of a cousin of King Vittorio Emanuele, would surrender at noon tomorrow.

Previous British reports said there were 7,000 Italian troops and 28,000 to 31,000 natives besieged in the 40-day battle for the Ethiopian fortress.

In North Africa, the British declared that two axis columns which crossed the Egyptian frontier in the zig-zag battle around Salem had been driven back into Libya by British mechanized forces.

Premier Mussolini's high command said the duke's army, trapped on a 9,000-foot mountain stronghold 280 miles northeast of Addis Ababa, capitulated after running out of food and water.

Italian resistance in the African kingdom, it was said, is continuing only in the sectors of Jimma, in the south, and Gondar, in the northwest.

Heartening to British

The prospect of the release of troops and supplies tied up in the siege of Amba Alaji was heartening to the British, who admittedly need all available forces to meet axis threats in North Africa and in the oil rich lands of the Middle East.

On the offensive in this region during the week-end the RAF reported a bag of 22 axis aircraft, mainly German and at least 20 more were said to have been damaged in air battles over principal axis bases in Crenencia, in the Suez canal area and in Iraq.

In the Middle East war theater, Britain's struggle was further complicated when General Henri Dentz, high commissioner of French-ruled Syria and Lebanon, called on the Syrians to resist "criminal aggressions" of the British.

"Once again . . . England sheds French blood," he said, referring to RAF attacks on Syrian airbases.

The British declared when the attacks were opened last week that German planes flying to aid Iraq were landing at Syrian airfields en route to Iraq.

Evacuation Advised

Reports from Beirut said citizens of the United States, Britain and Palestine had been advised to leave Lebanon immediately.

The British radio quoted a Rumanian broadcast as saying that if Germany infantry was being transported through the Bosphorus, Turkish-controlled link between the Black sea and the Mediterranean, presumably bound for Syria and Iraq.

Reports from Baghdad, the capital of Iraq, said that the Iraq air force "most effectively" bombed British warships in the Persian gulf at Basra and that the British garrison at Habbaniyah airdrome, 60 miles west of Baghdad, was cut off from reinforcements.

The Habbaniyah garrison has been under siege since May 2, when Iraq artillery and British troops clashed. Iraq's Premier Rashid Ali Al Gailani appealed to Germany for help.

"The question of supplies for the British garrison has become acute, and Iraq military circles reckoned with early capitulation," it was declared in Baghdad.

Iraq general headquarters reported that British Major John Bagot Glubb, 44, known to Bedouin warriors as "King of the Desert" and successor to "Lawrence of Arabia" of World War fame, had been killed in action.

Other advices said Glubb was at a hospital in Amman, Trans-

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 18.

The Golden Text was: "Forsake the foolish and live; and go in the way of understanding" (Proverbs 9:6).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God. The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God: And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ" (Romans 8:14, 16, 17).

The Lesson Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Immortal man was and is God's image or idea, even the infinite expression of infinite Mind, and immortal man is coexistent and coeternal with that Mind. He has been forever in the eternal Mind, God, but infinite Mind can never be in man, but is reflected by man. The spiritual man's consciousness and individuality are reflections of God. They are the emanations of Him who is Life, Truth, and Love. Immortal man is not and never was material, but always spiritual and eternal" (p. 536).

"Market" Cemeteries

In medieval times, European markets often were located in cemeteries. Cemeteries, as well as churches, were places of sanctuary for those seeking refuge in time of war, fire, or famine. Here they were protected from all harm by church law. So many persons lived in cemeteries, as a result, that regular market places were established in them.

Ten Bokmobiles Will Be Provided by Collins Bill

Ten bookmobiles will begin to take books to some of the 1,500,000 people in the state who now have no public library service, if a bill passes which has just been introduced in the general assembly by Rep. Dennis J. Collins (R.) of DeKalb. The bill which is sponsored by the Illinois Library Association would provide a $200,000 book fund for established libraries and $200,000 for bookmobile service to the people in the state who lack a public library.

Representatives of state organizations having more than 300,000 members recently discussed with Governor Green the book needs of the people in Illinois. At that time representatives of the Illinois Library Association pointed out that 71 libraries in Illinois, serving approximately 4,000,000 people had reported an urgent need for this emergency book fund.

This situation was largely brought about by the increased demand for technical books and books about jobs in connection with defense industries. In some sections families, brought in by these industries are making many demands for books that cannot be met. The library association further pointed out that there is a need for more adequate book service in camp areas where thousands of young men are without good recreational facilities.

While the demand for books has increased, library incomes from taxes have dropped as much as 30 to 45 per cent in some communities because of reduced property values.

The $200,000 which is to be used in unserved areas will help to bring books to the 1,500,000 persons, mostly in small towns and rural areas, now without access to a public library. There are 5 counties in the state that have no public library within their borders.

KSB Hospital Suit Set for Wednesday in Court at Oregon

Judge Harry Wheat To Hear Claim Against Ogle County

Three suits against Ogle county and its board of supervisors, two of them brought by the Katherine Shaw Betha hospital of Dixon, are scheduled to be heard in Ogle county Circuit court at Oregon by Judge Harry E. Wheat of Freeport this week.

The suits brought by the Dixon hospital, through its attorney Henry C. Warner of Dixon, seeks judgments totalling $1,600, allegedly due the hospital for care of two Ogle county paupers.

In one suit, the hospital has entered claims amounting to $660.90 for services rendered to a man from Jan. 25, 1940, to Aug. 10, 1940. The suit claims the man and his son were without means and that the county of Ogle is therefore liable for payment of the services.

The second suit alleges that a second man received services amounting to $481 from Jan. 1, 1940, to May 21, 1940, and that the patient's township supervisor had made application to the hospital for his admittance as a patient.

Will Is Contested

In a suit to be heard by the court Thursday, two relatives are contesting the will of Mrs. Willesie Garrett of Rochelle, who died May 31, 1940. The suit alleges that Mrs. Garrett made an earlier will that has never been revoked. Sherman S. Garrett and Mrs. Louise Garrett Bauer, Champaign, nephew and niece of the deceased, are usually too small to serve more the people living within the boundaries of the community.

Bookmobiles have been found to bringing the suit against Burnell Baker and Earl H. Baker, nephews, and Fred Beach, a half-brother of Mrs. Garrett.

The complaint charges that Mrs. Garrett made a will giving all her estate to the plaintiffs and that on March 4, 1940, she made a second will making the defendants sole heirs of the estate. The plaintiffs charge that the first will is valid because it has never been revoked.

According to the complaint, the deceased made a second will on March 4, 1940, appointing Burnell Baker executor. On Feb. 14, 1940, the complaint says, Mrs. Garrett was declared to be incompetent by the Ogle County court and Burnell Baker was appointed conservator of Mrs. Garrett. The plaintiffs charge that the defendants influenced Mrs. Garrett to change her will.

An injunction suit against the board of supervisors to be heard Monday by John H. Wagner, a farmer residing on state route 72 near Byron, Wagner, in his complaint charges that the road and bridge committee of the board, changed the grade and contour of a culvert on the highway, and this caused water which deposited rubbish and debris to flow on his land. The complaint states that the culvert construction was changed on May 26, 1938. Attorney M. V. Peterman of Oregon will represent the plaintiff.

Dr. F. L. Blewfield read the wedding service at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, uniting in marriage Miss Sylvia Ann Carey, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Carey of 621 Carroll avenue, and Donald W. Bush, elder son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Bush of 805 Palmyra avenue. GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

A Thought For Today

O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.—Psalms 84:12.
Trust in God, and keep your powder dry.—Cromwell.

Puzzle: Limit an Income

The oft-exploded theory that less than 5 per cent of our people own more than 90 per cent of our wealth is resurrected by Representative John E. Rankin of Mississippi. Citing published reports about the large salaries of Louis B. Mayer, film executive, and others in entertainment and business, Mr. Rankin says something ought to be done to confiscate such incomes by way of higher income taxes.

Louis Mayer, by the way, last year was paid $697,048 for directing production for Loew's, Inc., motion picture company. Next on last year's list of handsome incomes was Eugene G. Grace, who is president of Bethlehem Steel, and received $478,144. There were others in the report cited by Representative Rankin, the amounts running from the figure connected with Mr. Mayer down to $9,101 received by one John C. Willey, a salesman.

Now the average person would hardly know what to do with the income of the last-mentioned plutocrat, Mr. Willey; and if he should suddenly find himself the proud possessor of the Mayer income he'd know even less about what to do. Imagine yourself awakening some morning with the knowledge that your income is nearly $2,000 a day, as Mr. Mayer's is. We say, "imagine yourself," because that is about the only way you ever will experience such a thrill if Mr. Rankin has his way.

And that makes you angry. If Mr. Mayer has been permitted to earn almost $2,000 a day, why shouldn't you have that privilege? Why shouldn't you be permitted to receive $2,000 a day if you can land in the right office of the right motion picture company? The point we are trying to make is

THREE TO MAKE READY

BY W. H. PEARLS

YESTERDAY, Paula and Tony are determined to keep Chris out of trouble. They called the help of Dr. Lud, who explains that Kilo's uncle, Big Barney Sherwood, is looking for an excuse to use that Van Horn, replace him with a hand-picked politician. If the League-Fraternity fight continues, Sherwood will use that. En route home, Dr. Lud surprises Paula by telling her that Tony loves her. She knows it is true.

PAULA TAKES A TRICK

CHAPTER VI

"IT'S not true, it's not true," Paula told herself over and over. "Why, Tony would laugh at the ideal!"

For hours she had been tossing restlessly on her bed, trying to erase Dr. Lud's words from her mind. But the more she thought about it the less sure she was. Had she been so blinded by love for Chris that she couldn't see how Tony felt?

Paula sat up in bed, moonlight silencing her slim shoulders. Memories pushed in on her—the eager way Tony's fingers sought hers; the wistful light in his brown eyes when she caught his gaze on her; his stubborn refusal to date any of the Gamma Tau girls.

It all added up; Paula couldn't deny that. She buried her face in her pillow, and a fierce determination came over her never to hurt Tony.

THE next morning was cloudy and cool. Paula put on the blue wool dress Chris liked so well. She hid the ravages of her sleepless night with make-up and set off across the campus. She hoped she didn't look too much like a huntress, for her mind was made up to snatch Chris away from Kilo even if she had to club him.

She caught glimpses of Tony during the day, but she managed to avoid conversation with him. Late in the afternoon she met Chris strolling across the campus. "Hey, wait up for a gal," she called to him.

Chris turned, an unreadable expression in his fire-blue eyes. Paula couldn't tell whether he was glad to see her or not.

"Hi, Paulie. How're things and stuff?"

"So, so, podner," Paula drawled. "How's the lone ranger?"

"It's exam time, Paulie," he replied. "Old Christopher grindeth his wits."

Paula sensed the apology in his voice, but let it pass. "How about buying me a coke for old-time's sake?"

"Well . . ." Chris rubbed the end of his nose in embarrassment. "I'd like to, Paulie, but I've already promised . . ."

Paula said lightly, "Oh, well, in that if $2,000 a day is good for Mr. Mayer, it ought to be good for any one else. If they start limiting Mayer, then they limit everybody, deserving or otherwise.

It seems to us that Representative Rankin has got off the trail of the fox and is chasing a rabbit instead. Instead of barking at the big boys who have swollen incomes, Mr. Rankin ought to be working to make it possible for the boys with little incomes to increase them. That can't be done by tearing down the larger fellows. Cut down all the big trees in a forest, and the little saplings still will be crowded by the medium sized trees. Cut down the medium sized trees, and the shrubs will be crowded by the saplings. Keep up that process and you'll hear talk that some of the grass is taller than other grass blades.

Look into the history of most of the arts we enjoy, or most of the comforts that make life more worth living, and you will find they were devised by men who expected a reward therefore—a reward they wouldn't have got unless they had made a special effort; and they wouldn't have made a special effort unless they were assured of a reward.

Put us all on the same plane and you have—Russia.

Which to Believe?

Some time ago the federal government desired enactment of a law that would give the government more control over the petroleum industry. There was considerable resistance and finally a propaganda policy was undertaken. This propaganda took the form of a radio broadcast which held forth the horrifying consequences of exhaustion of the nation's oil supplies. It was made to appear that unless the proposed legislation were adopted, we'd be without oil reasonably soon.

Now comes the Illinois petroleum industries committee with the following paragraph which we lift from an argument against higher taxation of gasoline:

"This country faces no scarcity of motor fuel. The petroleum industry is discovering new oil supplies faster than the country is consuming petroleum products. The United States bureau of mines recently stated that within the confines of this country there are resources ample to assure an adequate supply of motor fuel for at least 3,000 years. The petroleum industry has a productive capacity to meet any demands that will be placed upon it . . ."

Now either the United States is about to run out of oil, or it has enough petroleum resources to last 3,000 years. One or the other can be true, but not both.

The bureau of mines doesn't agree with the government.

Spanish Resistance

Ramon Serrano Suner, Franco's foreign minister in Spain, doesn't like the United States or any free democratic country. He is proud, however, of the Franco government's defense of Spain from outside influences.

"Just as on May 2, 1808, Spain did not request to become French; similarly on July 18, 1936, Spain did not want to become either Russian or British," he said in a recent speech.

Proud words, and it will be interesting to see how strongly and how effectively Franco Spain defends itself in 1941 from becoming German. He might ask the Italians how they're doing.

News Behind THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, May 18—Whether the British are now to be driven out of the Near East and North Africa depends on how far the French will go in their promised collaboration with the nazis. The French have 60,000 troops in Syria under arms. That they will act under orders from Vichy is to be expected. Their good material is left over from the equipment furnished the original Weygand force of 120,000 (half of which has been demobilized) but the Germans can make it even better.

If these French fight with the Germans, the British can not hope to defend the Suez, and what is even more important than Mesopotamian oil to them, the Alexandria naval base.

The logical plan for nazi attack (already hinted in dispatches) is to cut through Syria, not directly toward the Suez, but southeastward for the only Mesopotamian port, Basra, near the head of the Persian gulf. Driving down the Euphrates river valley to Basra, the Germans could clear Mesopotamia of the British and deprive them of their only origin of supplies there.

The campaign would be difficult for the Germans. Access through Turkey will do them little good. There are no roads across Turkey. Their Syrian move must be launched from bases established by sea or air from Greece, right under the nose of the British in Cyprus. They, therefore, vitally need the fighting assistance of the French.

But the problem is even tougher for the British. If they invade Syria, the French will surely fight. If they wait until the nazis reach the Persian gulf, they will have to defend Suez from two sides. Their Mesopotamian resistance must rely on doubtful Indian native troops.

The fate of nazi opposition in this cradle of the world thus is being weighed upon invisible scales in Vichy.

The notion that Mr. Roosevelt might try to take Dakar is being dispelled. His diplomats have yearned for such action, but his military men have decided it is impossible. We can seize Martinique and French Guiana in our sphere without much trouble, but the occupation of Dakar would require months of preparation for a large expeditionary force.

If France collaborates with the nazis and allows Hitler to establish a submarine and marine air base there, the direct line of British supplies from South America and India will be brought under attack. This is the only immediate significance of Dakar. From a military standpoint it would not be feasible for Hitler to launch any attack from there upon South America for a long time. The effect of nazi occupation would, therefore, be to us largely a diplomatic blow at our prestige in Latin America.

Note — The British must take the blame if this strategic point falls to Hitler. The defenses there rely on the French cruisers which the British let escape through Gibraltar, in full sight, after the fall of France.

The weather will work against any decisive action on the other Suez front in North Africa until fall. It will soon be too hot to fight on the Egypt-Cyrenaica front. The existing stalemate is likely to continue.

Roosevelt did not issue his challenge to Petain impulsively as it may have appeared. A tip from Vichy as to the way the wind was about to blow was available here several days before. While the news was a terrific blow, official dom is comforting itself with the hope it will not work out in practice as decisive as it could prove to be to the British. With a million and a half French prisoners still in German hands, however, these hopes must be lightly held.

Question Suspect in Five Murders

Lawrenceburg, Ind., May 19.—(AP)—Authorities took a 26-year-old suspect to state police headquarters at Indianapolis today for a lie detector test to help them determine whether they had the relentless killer who stalked five members of a family over a hot-temperament farm and shot them down one by one in their tracks.

Sheriff William A. Winegard said the man was taken into custody yesterday.

The slain were found Saturday scattered over a quarter mile of the Laughter creek bottoms 14 miles southeast of here. The sheriff said they had died the night before.

Johnston Argue, 60, lay in a lane to his home, shot down on his way home from work at the army ordnance proving ground near Madison.

His wife, Nina, 60, was in the kitchen, where a table had been set for six persons. Their granddaughter, Mary Elizabeth Breeden, 12, was in the barn, and their sons, Leo, 24, and William, 30, in a field.

All had been shot in the head or neck. A shotgun was missing from the farmhouse. A trunk in which over $100 was reported to have been kept had been broken open. There was no money in it.

Dismissal of Score of Wardens Revealed

Springfield, Ill., May 20.—(AP)—The dismissal of approximately 20 state game wardens was disclosed today by the office of Conservation Director Livingstone E. Osborne.

A department spokesman said the men were discharged prior to expiration of their 90-day civil service probationary periods, which ended today for most wardens affected, because conservation officials did not wish to assume responsibility for certification of the men as civil service employees.

The reluctance of department officials to permit the men to become regularly certified civil service employees, the spokesman said, resulted from a report of the Branston legislative committee which recommended last week that the civil service list including names of the dismissed employees be cancelled by the Civil Service Commission because of "irregularities" in conduct of the examination.

THEY'RE BURNING UP

Some of the big boys who run the Knacks team are blazing under the spring sun—but it's not the heat of the weatherman that has 'em gasping for air. Under the rules of Reynolds Field no admission can be charged to see games and the old pass-the-hat trick is employed to help defray the many expenses of the team. Yesterday's crowd was a whopper, but there were more pennies in the collection than anything else. Pennies from heaven may be all right, but those from the fans hurt the "kitty." You can't find better entertainment at lower cost anywhere around here, and if you can't POSSIBLY give more than five cents, you'd better make it a nickel rather than five humiliating cents.

SUPPER MATCH AT COUNTRY CLUB

The first supper-match for the men of the Dixon Country club will be held tomorrow. Players have been asked to report at the club at 5 o'clock at which time they will choose up sides. Ken Detweiler, chairman of the sports committee, reports that the first match with Plum Hollow will be held next Sunday at the Country club and pairings will probably be made at tomorrow night's supper match.

BROTHER ACT

One of the highlights of the summer golf season will be the annual match staged by the Jones Brothers, (Edward, Willard and Gerald). In anticipation of the big event, it is reported that Brother Eddie is taking lessons from the pro, Ralph Stonehouse. Brother Gerald, by the way, knows how to answer the bell—and will come out fighting. A few days ago Gerald picked up an alarm clock he had left at a local repair shop and stuffed it in his pocket as he went to lunch. On the stroke of high noon, when Gerald was perched on a stool at a local lunch counter, the darn thing exploded with a nerve-jangling ring and Gerald nearly ripped off his coat before he could stop the blasted thing.

MEMBERSHIP NEARS PEAK

Memberships in Plum Hollow Golf and Country club will close June 1, according to an announcement today by Frank L. Randall. By that time, he reports, the list of members is expected to total 200.

RELIEF JOB ON MOUND

Nelson Potter of Mt. Morris pitched the closing 11-3 innings of the Philadelphia-Detroit game Saturday when Connie Mack, manager of the A's, was honored in a big celebration. In the short time he was in the game Potter gave off one hit and the Tigers won the game 8 to 5.

SCOREKEEPER'S NIGHTMARE

The Grand Detour softball team walloped the Dixon Future Farmers of America, 31 to 5 in a game on the winners' diamond this week end. Batteries for the Dixon team included Considine on the mound and Leeper behind the plate. Winning pitcher was Fruin who allowed only six hits and Harold Jones completed the battery. Next week the Grand Detour team expects to play Mt. Morris and on the following Sunday will clash with the Dixon A. & P. team.

NORTHERN REPRESENTATIVES

Burdett Steadman of Sterling was tied with Sturgis of York, Chas. of Danville and Fisher of Wheaton for fifth place in the finals of the high jump at the state track and field meet at the University of Illinois this week end. Eddie Mann, star basketball player from Centralia, won the event with a leap of 5 feet 1 1/4 inches. Spencer of Rock Falls was tied for third, fourth and fifth in the pole vault with Phelps of East St. Louis, Ireland of Oak Park, Staley of Paris and Chamberlain of Hononegah. Chornak of West Frankfort set the winning height with a leap of 12 feet 4 1/2 inches.

A BUSY DAY

Golfers from Chicago, Locust, Sterling, Savanna, Calumet City, Springfield, Rock Falls, Oak Park, La Grange and Philadelphia were among those who swarmed over the Plum Hollow course here yesterday. Over 300 club swingers enjoyed the May weather and another foursome couldn't have been crowded on the course.

TRAIL RIDE PLANNED FOR JUNE 8

Arthur Keithahn, secretary of the Rock River Trail and Horseman association and Clarence Meyers are napping an extensive publicity campaign for the association's trail ride on June 8. About 200 rides are expected to enjoy the trip over a 20-mile route starting from the Babson Arab farm near Grand Detour. It is to be an "open ride" with any rider, member of the association or not, invited to attend.

TENNIS MEETING

Dixon tennis players interested in playing in the city competition this season are asked to attend a meeting Wednesday night at 7:30. It will probably be held in the Loveland Community House.

In the low net event, Floyd Smith had a 71, C. W. Burke had 73 net and Eldon Myers 76. Over a hundred rounds of golf were played yesterday according to Pro Ralph Stonehouse and members were enthusiastic about the excellent conditions of the fairways and greens.

When the official scorekeeper for the Peru Merchants was asked what became of the Peru Parks team this year, he said the Merchants "just absorbed 'em." In the playoff series last year the Parks won the city championship and the Merchants, recognizing talent, took the Parks into the fold.

PLAN GOLF MATCHES

Frank L. Randall and Em Rorer are making a tour of neighborhood golf courses today to arrange matches for Plum Hollow Golf and Country club. They plan to stop at Sterling, Oregon, Rochelle and Polo.

Young Bob Miller socked out a home run with the bases loaded yesterday when the Schlitz softball team defeated the Nachusa club, 7 to 6. Ken Foltz and Bob Needham are reported to have made some sensational catches in the field and Gannon solved the pitching by holding the Nachusa lads down to six hits.

PRINCETON POUNDS POLO

Miller's Homer in Fourth Starts Rally as Knacks Win

EXCEPT FOR BAD BASE-RUNNING LOCALS DO WELL

Strong Peru Merchants Routed by Dixon at Reynolds Field

If the U. S. Army should ever take Big Boy Shires Miller away from the Knacks' baseball team, the local fans would know something of how the Detroit Tigers felt to lose Hank Greenberg. Dixon's big, tall drink of water belted the apple clean out of Reynolds field yesterday afternoon to start the rally which gave the Knacks a 9 to 4 victory over the clever Peru Merchants.

Miller, who can certainly play a lot of baseball when he digs in, drove in four of the Dixon runs and had a perfect day at bat with a homer, a single and two walks in four trips to the plate.

Bad Base Running

Except for "lousy" base-running on the part of the Knacks, they certainly didn't look like the rag-a-muffin club which lost to the Freeport Stovers in their opening game. The local boys took long leads of the sacks only to be nabbed by clever infield playing by the visitors. They also seemed slow of foot in making the circuits and need almost a home run or double to score.

In other respects the team performed well. Among those turning in outstanding performances was Ralph Keegan, the new mounder, who settled down into an even stride. He allowed 10 scattered hits, walked four and struck out seven.

In was a snappy ball game to the finish and it began when Bensch as first man clouted the third ball pitched to him for a home run over the left field fence and Peru took a 1 to 0 lead.

Kuhn Singles

Kuhn singled over first base to start the Dixon half of the first inning but Zera's fly to left field, an infield play to nab Knauser meant two out. Miller was walked but the side was retired when Windmiller was out from pitcher to first.

It was three-up-and-three-down for each team in the second frame. Bensch singled to start the third inning but was out trying to steal second. His hit was the only one of the inning.

With one out in the fourth frame Marchioletti walked, went to second on the second basemen's error in what might have been a double play. Peters was safe on the fielder's choice. Kasik doubled to center field to score Marchioletti and sent Peters to third but the latter was out trying to score. Meyer was safe on a fielder's choice and F. Rochnowski was walked. Bensch forced out Kasik at the plate to retire the side with Peru leading 2 to 0.

Score is Tied

In the last of the fourth inning the Knacks knotted the score. As first man up Knauser singled along third base line and scored on Miller's home run over the left field fence. Windmiller singled, Full struck out for one away and Rucker doubled. Windmiller was called out on a close play at third and Rucker was forced out at third when Glessner drove a ball into the infield.

E. Rochnowski singled for Peru in the fifth and Zera rapped out a one-sacker for Dixon in the fifth, but each failed to advance. The Knacks took the lead in the last of the sixth when Miller was walked for the second time and Dixon, until Saturday the defending champions of freshman-sophomore North Central conference track, lost the title to the Sterling athletes Saturday afternoon in the host's stadium.

The meet was marked by five new records and is tie as the Sterling team barely nosed out an up-and-coming troupe of Princeton boys.

Pease of Princeton set a new mark for the 70-yard high hurdles when he stepped off the distance in 10.1 to erase the mark set by Brown of Princeton last year (10.6).

In the 100-yard dash Reecher of the winners sprinted the distance in 10.9 to better the mark set by Riser of Sterling at 11 flat.

Princeton's Relay Team Wins—Princeton's relay team composed of Pierce, Pease, Franten and Rumley tied the record set last year by Sterling at 1:04. In the discus event Hrynak of DeKalb's third place team tossed the platted for the record-smashing distance of 117 feet 1/2 inch to better the mark set by Collins last year at 107 feet 7 1/2 inches.

A new record was set in the high jump when Carl Schnake of Dixon went four-eighths of an inch higher than he did last year. Schnake also bettered his own broad jump record. His mark for this year was 19 feet 4 1/4 inches as compared to 18 feet 3 1/4 inches last year.

Of the 13 events Sterling won the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and took several seconds, thirds, and fourths. Princeton won the high hurdles, mile run relay. DeKalb won the 880-yard run, pole vault, shot put and discus. Dixon won the 110-yard low hurdles (P. Egler), the high jump and the scored on Rucker's single.

Bensch, Peru slugger, got his second home run of the game when he led off in the seventh inning and belted the ball over the left field fence again to tie the score.

Manickl of Peru walked and advanced on E. Rochnowski's sacrifice and scored on a single by Brovelli.

Breaks for Dixon

Dixon got a break in the last of the seventh frame when Glessner and Keegan each got on base on an error by the third basemen and one by the sacker. Zera belted a double to center field and Glessner scored. Miller's singled to left field scored Keegan. Miller went to second on the peg to home and scored on Windmiller's hit. The latter also advanced on a play at the plate, went to third on a passed ball and scored on Full's hit over shortstop.

Dixon scored the last run in the eighth when Glessner singled to left field, went to second on a passed ball and scored on Zera's single.

DUROCHER SHAKES LINEUP; BROOKLYN BOWS TO CHICAGO

Giants Run Winnings Strike to Four in Routing Bucs

By BILL BONI

Associated Press Sports Writer—Leo Durocher and his Brooklyn Dodgers are discovering this isn't going to be the kind of National League race where you can take anything for granted.

The Brooks, who never do things in less than bunches, looked fine while reeling off that winning streak of seven straight which hoisted them into first place. Then came an 11-inning defeat in Pittsburgh, and Durocher decided it was a good time to break up his combination.

In Chicago yesterday he stuck Pete Reiser back in the lineup in place of Jimmy Wascell, who'd been leading the club with a .370 average; benched Dixie Walker in favor of right-handed hitting Joe Vosmik, and—the Dodgers blew a 7-4 decision to the Cubs. With the St. Louis Cardinals meanwhile shading the Phillies, 6-5, that left Brooklyn only a game in front of the Redbirds.

Even Durocher's pet pitching magic, fast-hallier Whitlow Wyatt, lost its effect for once, since he was lifted opening day for a pinch-hitter in his losing effort against the Giants. Whatt had gone to the post seven times and netted seven victories allowing a total of only 11 enemy runs.

Gifts to Dodgers

But this time, though Ducky Medwick ran his hitting streak to 17 straight and Cub errors made all of the Dodgers runs gifts, Chicago got the jump in the first inning and never was headed.

For the Cards Jimmy Brown was the big hitter with three singles and a double off the Phil's Lefty Lee Grissom. But it was Johnny Mize's single with the bases loaded in the ninth that scored the deciding run. The Cards had to pay a goodly price for the triumph though, for Catcher Walker Cooper was shelved for probably six weeks when he dislocated his shoulder in a collision at the plate.

Back in third place the New York Giants ran their winning streak to four straight by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4, the Terrymen getting three in the seventh to win after the Bucs had made the most of six bases on balls to get all their runs in the first two frames.

Meanwhile Paul Derringer, getting his third win of the year, hauled the Cincinnati Reds out of their longest losing streak in more than 300 games. Two handy singles by Rooiekie Chuck Anderson doled out with Derringer's seventh-inning, nine-strikeout pitching for a 4-3 defeat of the Boston Braves after six losses.

Home Runs

Most of the day's hitting, and all of the day's homers, occurred in the American League. The lowly Philadelphia Athletics set the keynote by clubbing Rookie "Preacher" Dorrsett and two Cleveland relief pitchers for 16 hits and a 10-3 verdict. That ended the Tribe's victory string at five straight.

The second-place Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees got 16 safeties apiece. The Sox, headed by Taft Wright, got four runs in the first and five in the last three innings to rout the Washington Senators, 10-5. All of the Yankees hit safely, Joe Gordon clouting a three-run homer, to back up Lefty Gomez, six-hit pitcher for a 12-2 thumping of the St. Louis Browns. Even Gomez got two hits.

The Detroit Tigers, who seem to be recovering from Hank Greenberg's departure, won their fourth in a row, though they had to go 11 innings to do it. Two unearned runs were the margin of a 6-5 triumph over the Boston Red Sox, who got one back when Jimmy Foxx clouted a homer in the last of the 11th but couldn't get to Relief Pitcher Al Benton for any more.

FOLWELL CRICKET STAR—Haverford, Pa.—Bob Folwell, Jr., son of the former University of Pennsylvania and United States Naval Academy football coach, is the star of the Haverford College cricket team.

DIXON NETMEN WHIP FREEPORT 7-0 SATURDAY

Dixon's spring sports teams including the track, tennis and golf squads are doing all they can to avenge a basketball tournament defeat in March. Adding to the fires of revenge was the Duke's 7 to 0 tennis triumph on the Freeport courts Saturday.

The Dixon netmen bent the Pretzels badly in each match and none went even to three sets.

In the singles Red McNamera routed Belle, 6-3 and 6-3. Minni-had had some difficulty but finally eliminated Holderman with scores of 6-3 and 7-5.

Ned Sack whipped out a 6-2 and 6-1 victory over Johnson. Ted Mason conquered Sargent 6-4 and 6-1 and Eustace Shaw vanquished Lighthall with scores of 6-4 and 6-2.

In the doubles McNamera and Sack defeated Belle and Holderman with set scores of 6-3 and 6-0. Minnihan and Mason trimmed Hutcherson and Chapman, 6-2 and 6-2.

The Dixon team goes to Sterling tonight.

Highway Transportation Speeds Efficiency of Defense Program

Job No. 1 in America today is defense. The country's gigantic rearmament program, to be successful, requires peak efficiency in the national economy. And one of the most important contributors to this efficiency is the motor vehicle.

This is the basis of eight studies made by the National Automobile Dealers Association for the purpose of acquainting the public with the place of the motor car in modern transportation and to offset the misconception that it is still a luxury, the output of which can be restricted without penalizing the American way of living. These studies show particularly the wide use of the automobile in business activities and its change from a pleasure car to a utility.

Steps Up Tempo of Living
In the first of these studies, N. A. D. A. points out that individual transportation has geared American business to a swift pace. "It has stepped up the tempo of our living. Nowhere in the world has dependence upon the private passenger car or truck reached the point it has in this country. Our cars are like the shoes on our feet. Without them, we feel almost naked. Our freedom of action is restricted. Notice how much less you accomplish, some day, when your car is tied up for repairs. Watch your efficiency drop."

"Suppose this loss of efficiency were multiplied manifold by an unnecessary restraint on motor car production and distribution. What would that do to our great national effort for preparedness? Consider also the psychological reaction, the effect on the morale of a people eager to put forth its best effort in behalf of defense. It wouldn't make sense to dull the fine edge of a workman's most useful tool before assigning him an important job."

"The utility value of the passenger car has steadily risen. In countless ways, it adds to our day's accomplishments by conserving valuable time. Now we are in a period of intense industrial and business activity. More than ever, speed is essential. An increasing number of workers must get to and from their jobs with dispatch. National defense industries not infrequently draw their personnel from wide areas, sometimes with a radius of as much as 100 miles from the plants. Peak load for the highway transportation system is just ahead.

"Our dependence upon individual transportation has steadily increased. A survey by the Automobile Manufacturers Association shows that there are now 2,130 American towns and cities, ranging in population from 2,500 to 50,000 that are doing without any form of mass transportation. Their combined populations of 11,844,000 depend, for routine movements, wholly upon private cars.

"Recent times have seen a marked change in our method of travel. The horse has disappeared from the city, and is fast disappearing from the country scene. Interurbans are almost a thing of the past. Street car tracks are being pulled up. Railroad passenger traffic has declined. Mass transportation is giving way to the more efficient individual transportation. You travel on your own time schedule. You go from door to door. No time is lost hiking to and from stations and trolley stops, or waiting for connections. It requires no imagination to recognize the importance of the automobile in our defense program."

Passenger Car's Value
"Obviously, the requirement of materials and manpower for strictly military purposes must come first. The motor industry was quick to realize that. Priority in machine tools was yielded early to defense industries. National automobile shows for 1941 were cancelled. Retooling for 1942 models is being held to a minimum. Workers training programs are under way in the factories. The National Automobile Dealers Association is launching a nationwide mechanics training program. No industry is more alert to defense needs of our country, nor more cooperative in efforts to meet those needs."

"It is a double assignment that the motor industry is carrying out. While participating substantially in the production of military equipment, it is, at the same time, fulfilling the needs of the civilian population for passenger cars and trucks. Both assignments serve defense purposes. Anything so ingrained in the economic life of a nation as is individual transportation in this country cannot be disturbed without loss to national efficiency."

INDIANAPOLIS DRIVER HOLDS HONORED POLE POSITION FOR 500-MILE MEMORIAL DAY RACE

Indianapolis, May 19—(AP)—Mauri Rose, of Indianapolis, a defense factory worker, holds the honored pole position, inside in the front row, for the start of the 500-mile automobile race on Memorial Day.

Rose, who is employed in the Allison Airplane engine plant, grabbed the favored spot over the week-end as qualifying trials filled 18 of the 33 places in the starting lineup.
Other trials will be held on Wednesday if six drivers signify their readiness by 6 p. m. today; next Saturday and Sunday if they do not.

To qualify, a car must go 10 miles at 115 miles an hour, but only the 33 fastest will get in the race.

Two Teams Stand in Way of Crown for Wolverines

Chicago—May 19—(AP)—Only Purdue and Northwestern, both second division clubs, stand between Michigan and the Big Ten baseball championship.

The pace-setting Wolverines engage Purdue in two games at LaFayette this week-end and follow up with another series against the Wildcats at Evanston a week hence.

Ray Fisher's boys became odds-on favorites to win their first title since 1936 by splitting a two-game series with Indiana last Friday and Saturday.

Indiana defeated Michigan's ace pitcher, Mickey Stoddard, in the first game but sophomore Cliff Wise evened the series for the leaders with an 8 to 3 triumph. This series ended the season for Indiana with seven wins in 12 games.

Illinois, the 1940 co-champion with Northwestern, also concluded its title bid by splitting two games with Ohio State. Capt. Al Grant won his fifth mound decision Friday, but the Buckeyes snapped back for a 3 to 2 win Saturday behind Gene Dornbrook's fancy pitching. Illinois finished with seven wins and four defeats. One game was rained out.

Outside Contenders
Iowa and Wisconsin, outside contenders in event Michigan should falter, strengthened their first division berths last week. The Hawkeyes bowed to Northwestern Friday but won the next day, 8 to 7 in 11 innings. Wisconsin swept through Chicago's nine twice, 7 to 6 and 5 to 1. The Maroons now have lost 10 straight and the Badgers have won four of seven.

Minnesota beat Purdue, 2 to 1, but lost the second encounter, 9 to 7, in 10 innings.

The only other series besides the Michigan-Purdue set to this week pits Wisconsin against Northwestern at Evanston.

Indiana's Big Ten Track Champs to Seek New Honors in Los Angeles Meet

By EARL HILLIGAN

Minneapolis, May 19—(AP)—Indiana's "Mighty Mites" of track and field—who've shown they like the going when it's hardest—go west this week-end seeking new laurels.

Five of the eight Hoosiers star who scored 48 points here Saturday to win the Big Ten track championship—and wreck Michigan's hopes for a fifth straight crown—will compete in the newly created Los Angeles Relays, an invitational meet to be held next Saturday at the Los Angeles Memorial coliseum.

They are Paul Kendall, Wayne Tolliver, Roy Cochran, Campbell Kane, who make up the Indiana two mile relay aggregation, and big Archie Harris, the Negro giant who will continue his quest for a world's record in the discus.

Double Winners

Harris and Kane were double winners in Saturday's meet, which saw Indiana take six first places and Michigan only one clean-cut first, getting 43 points as Ohio State finished third at 37 and Northwestern fourth with 27 points. Harris won the shot and discus, hurling the platter 174 feet, one inch, for a new meet and American mark in a performance which fell only one inch and one-half short of the world standard.

Kane, about the hottest middle distance collegian now kicking the cinders, took the mile run and 40 minutes later captured the 880-yard event in record time of 1:51.3.

Indiana's two mile relay combination has turned in the fastest time of the season in this event—7:41.1 at the Penn Relays. The same day that time was registered, Michigan's two mile combination was nosed out by Drake at the Drake Relays in the first time of 7:41.8. Both Michigan and Drake will run against Indiana at Los Angeles, seeking their first win over the Hoosiers in this test.

Typical of Indiana Squad
Next Saturday's meet will give the west coast fans their first look of the season at midwest track stars—and they likely will see plenty in Indiana's representatives for the five Hoosiers going west are typical of the Indiana squad which upset the "past performance" chart Saturday at Minnesota's Memorial stadium, Indiana, to win, knew it had to get a flock of firsts—and did. And to bulwark its bid for the title, Indiana scored four second places and a fourth in the relay.

Michigan had a chance to pull victory out of the first on the final event—the high jump, but the windup of this test saw the Wolverine hopes fade as they scored only four points on a tie for first and a tie for fifth,

Poppy Day to Be Observed in This City on Saturday

Memory of America's war dead in the first World war will be honored here on Saturday, May 24th when everyone will be asked to wear a memorial poppy in tribute to their service and sacrifice.

Plans for the observance of Poppy Day are being completed by the Dixon Units of the American Legion and its Auxiliary under the leadership of E. N. Bower and Mrs. Catherine Tuska, Poppy Day chairmen. The memorial flowers, made by disabled war veterans, will be offered on the streets throughout the day by the Auxiliary women.

This year, with the threatening shadow of a new World War falling across America, the memorial poppy has new significance. It shows that America still remembers and honors those who fell in defense of freedom twenty-three years ago, that Americans

Weather Won't Interfere with Selling If You TELEPHONE!
Why let bad weather prevent you from making your regular visit to a valued out-of-town customer—when a telephone call will take your voice and your message right into his store or office? The telephone method offers a quick, satisfactory and inexpensive way to cover large sales areas. The small customer, or one whose orders are less profitable because of the time and expense involved in making personal visits, is within easy reach by telephone. Try selling-by-telephone. It will pay.
Long distance telephone calls offer 7 P. M. and all day Sunday are reduced in price as much as 40% over day-time rates.

Bus Line Cuts Rates for U.S. Army Personnel

Latest contribution by Interstate Transit Lines to the National Defense Program is a substantial reduction in round-trip bus fares for all military personnel, according to a recent announcement by R. J. O'Connor, traffic manager. All soldiers, sailors, marines and coast guardsmen, when traveling in uniform and at their own expense, will be entitled to purchase round-trip excursion tickets for only one-third more than the regular one-way fare. Tickets will be good for 30 days from date of issue.

Effective Now

These new low fares will be in effect from now until October 31, 1941, inclusive, and will apply to most points on the Interstate Transit Lines system and to many other sections of the United States via connecting bus lines.
Under this new plan tickets will be issued upon presentation of proper certificate signed by an officer which certifies that the man presenting it is on official leave, furlough or pass. These low-fare, 30-day excursions will enable the military personnel to make frequent visits to their homes, and it is certain that the rates will be heartily welcomed not only by the men in the service, but also by their relatives and friends.

In Barcelona, money made of cardboard discs is being used.

St. Louisians Advised To Purchase Coal Now

St. Louis, May 19.—(AP)—The temperature was expected to reach 80 degrees today—hardly conducive to a furnace fire—but St. Louisians were warned to buy coal now.

The prod came from the Municipal Smoke Elimination Committee, father of the anti-smoke ordinance, which said: "every known factor points to the fact that coal will be a scarce quantity next season."

"It is of utmost importance, therefore, that consumers buy now just on the ground of being sure to get their full supply at all. The first prices will be lowest."

The committee pointed to the recent coal strike and requirements of defense industries as causes of the expected scarcity and added that smokeless fuel from Arkansas and the east will be the hardest to get.

Introduced Football Running According to a memorial tablet at Rugby, William Webb Ellis introduced the idea of running with a football, during a game in 1823.

Minute Bat A bat so small that it crawls through cracks in bamboo stems, and rests inside the hollow joints, is native to the East Indies.

People's Column

UNCLE SAM

This grand old man should have as his middle name "Efficiency." If you were one of the privileged ones to be in Camp Forrest on Mothers' Day, you know. But if you were not there, I will endeavor to give you a word picture. My trip was a Mother's Day present from my children, and I made the trip, one of a group of five ladies, overland.

The trip to and from the camp was a revelation, of nature's beauty, of the old, old cabins and outbuildings, of the hill's clay, although some of them are still inhabited by people as old in tradition as the cabin's themselves. Then came the streets thronged with modern cars and people, and other streets so narrow, two cars could scarcely pass, in these parts the people themselves cling to the old Southern traditions. But on one of these streets we found the "Ritz Cafe" where we partook of a very well cooked and served breakfast. In fact we were treated royally by all everywhere.

On arriving in Tullahoma, which is a true beauty and charm and many people spoke of the fine manners and clean manhood of our Illinois soldier boys. We arrived in Tullahoma at 10:50 Saturday morning, leaving Dixon at 6:15 Friday evening. After cleaning and making ourselves presentable, we went into a cafe before leaving for camp which is a distance of about 3 miles. Of course the town was thronged with soldiers. But two, who were eating, glanced at us, then at each other, and one said: "Oh Mrs. Nagel, does Bill know you are here?" It was Sergeant Gosar, and I did not know he had ever known me. He told me that he and his companion, had made a forty mile trip to secure roses for the mothers. It was only a sample of the way all the boys felt, and acted when they saw their home town people. We arrived in Camp Forrest in time to have a satisfying dinner of steak, mashed potatoes, gravy, peaches, coffee and plenty of bread and butter.

It was necessary to secure a room in Tullahoma as the guest house was filled but although there are many busses and taxis constantly on duty, it was impossible to secure a ride. We stood waiting for an hour or more, and we were nearly frozen, in the "Sunny South". We were getting discouraged when Dixon's Captain Wimpleberg came out of headquarters. He, too recognized me, and asked several questions about Dixon, and especially my own son, Sergeant Jack Van Meter of the Home Guards who served under Captain Wimpleberg for several years.

Upon learning that we wished to go to town he very kindly invited us to ride with him and Mrs. Wimpleberg. He told us that there were five baggage cars of pianos being brought into camp for the use of the boys.

Sunday we came back, to camp to watch the arrival of the women folk. It is here that Efficiency really takes place.

In one side of the Company street the 129th Infantry band were waiting and on the other side the boys who were expecting, were grouped in proper formation, each company displaying their own flag. As the trucks arrived from the depot the band played appropriate music, the first number being the Illinois Pep Song. The trucks were backed to a high bank, the end board let down making a safe landing and as each boy recognized his "Lady" he stepped forward and escorted her to one of the barracks which had been made ready for that purpose, and then the day belonged to them. But there were so many disappointed boys and that, Dixon people, is what I have tried to remedy. I tried to start a Dixon Chapter of you, and you and you, to get you interested in getting together for the express purpose of making your boy's stay down there more pleasant. Just six Dixon people were enough interested to answer. You, others have left Chicago and other towns, shame you. Do you know that no more than five of your boys asked me if their folks had joined (You know the Dixon paper goes to camp every day.) And two boys were heard to say: "I am going over the hill".

Maybe it is impossible for you to go this time. But if our treasury had been filled all of the boys could have been remembered. You had better secure a May 1st issue of the Telegraph, read the People's Column and then get busy, so that the rest of the year can be theirs to enjoy.

After this ceremony was completed—I was surprised to see how few Dixon ladies were present.) The 129th Infantry band presented one of their fine concerts. Private Thomas sang "That Wonderful Mother of Mine" while the soldiers stood at attention and there were many wet eyes as the band ensemble joined in singing the chorus.

And then came the proudest moment of my life. When Captain Bronson announced the band would play my composition "Boys of 129th". It too, was sung as a vocal with a chorus by the band. Captain Bronson called me to the mike and I gave a short history of how and why I composed the number. And I did not miss the opportunity to let them know that Bugler Bill Nagel (who was with me) and I, were from Dixon, Illinois, and proud of it.

I met several fine people, among them Colonel Sece, and had several requests for copies of "Boys of 129".

At the number is the property of the 129th Band, and Captain Bronson.

After the concert the crowd went their various ways until dinner was served and what a dinner—chicken, ice cream and all that goes with it.

Everything about Camp Forrest is as clean as it can be made. I did not see a half a dozen flies, and no mosquitoes. There is a guest house, which can accommodate fifty or more at 50c per person, two of these beds are kept in reserve so that if it is necessary for a boy's folks to come to camp there will always be a place to stay. There is a service club, with a fine cafeteria, a well stocked library and each Saturday night a dance is given with music furnished by the various camp orchestras.

In charge of these buildings you will find refined, cultured ladies.

I did not intend to write a book when I started but I could go on and on, in telling you of your boys and mine.

I asked for and received permission to bring a rose to the mothers of two of the boys who were unable to go: Mrs. Grace Meredith and Mrs. Green. Our party consisted of Mrs. Scott Smith, a recent bride, Miss Mildred Malarky who went to see fiancée, Mrs. Frances Senn whose Uncle Muir Mosher is in camp, Mrs. Mosher who drove the car every mile of the journey and did a grand job of it and myself.

P. S. I went to see Bugler Bill of Co. A.

P. S. I delivered all the messages to your boys, that you gave me.

Junior-Senior Banquet
Friday, May 16, the seniors were delightfully entertained by the juniors on the planet of Mars. They stepped from their rocket ship at approximately 6:45 and a fantastic spectacle met their eyes. They were entirely surrounded by shadowy mountains in the distance was a weird cave and a few feet above were shining stars. They were greeted by underclassmen guides who told them to find their places and the evening would begin. More or less bewildered seniors were looking at the green mermaid placecards trying to find their own.

The food served by the Home Ec. I and II girls was set on a star-splashed table cloth and after a slight investigation they found the fuming volcanoes in front of them to be their nutcrups. By the time they had consumed the delicious food they were accustomed to their surroundings and were ready for the program which followed.

The atmosphere was provided by the president of the junior class, Warren Shoemaker. The Comet—Gloria Claussen. The Meteor—Bud Wynne. The Rocket—Jimmy Asp. Satellite (a dance)—Elaine Arbogast.

Astronomer—Mr. Hoff.

Shooting Stars (instrumental)—Jimmy Wheldon, Bob Johnston, Bill Chaffee, Ralph Hudson.

Gravitation (president of senior class)—Bill Ross.

To climax their visit on the heavenly planet, they danced to the music of Ralph Williams and his orchestra until midnight and then reluctantly they climbed back into their rocket ship and within a few moments were back in civilization.

The juniors should be commended for such a marvelous accomplishment and no one could have enjoyed the affair more than the seniors who are indeed grateful. (Contributed by a senior.)
